Dependents:

The Affordable Care Act ("Obamacare") now requires that you list all of your dependents so that the Federal government can audit your health care coverage. Failure to follow the requirements of the act can result in a substantial personal fine. If you have any questions about this Act, please contact your attorney or financial advisor.

I agree that I: (a) have read Relco's Employee Handbook (currently V33) and understand the policy statements concerning the Benefit Program contained therein. I further agree that I will stay current with any changes to the handbook as may from time to time be published on RELCO'S employee website and available from HR. (b) shall thoroughly read the detailed documentation from each provider and has selected each benefit accordingly, and understand that the documentation from the provider is the most accurate information and anything else, including this form, may have an error and should not be relied upon. Similarly, I agree that neither RELCO, nor any of its personnel, are knowledgeable enough about the coverages and my particular needs to provide advice or representations and so I shall not rely on such. (c) have accurately listed all of my dependents even if I choose not to cover them on this program.
